Sheriff's Message

Many sex offenders call Washington County home and must adhere to laws concerning their registration and notification. They are required to keep their registration current and can be arrested if they fail to do so. Sex offenders may register at the Sheriff's Office or the local State Police headquarters. Offenders must keep their information up to date as well; where they work, live, and any other vital information is required upon registration. We are providing the most current information on registered sex offenders in our county in this newsletter. Please feel free to contact the Sheriff's Office with any questions you may have in regards to sex offenders and/or the registration process.

Chaplains Corner

Respect is earned, not assumed.

While instructing teenage leaders recently I found the law of respect. I was compelled to share with the students that respect must be earned. It is not something that is simply understood as a result of your position in life, or your upbringing, or your social status. The golden rule says that we are to treat others as we would like to be treated. So simply put, if you want the respect of your peers, your co-workers, your friends, or your family, simply treat them with the respect that you expect from them. Good multiplies good, return good for evil consistently and respect will find you. So many people expect the respect of others but are unwilling to administer it themselves. Remember you get what you give. Adhere to the golden rule and model your life after that of the Lord, and everything else will work itself out. And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise. Luke 6:31 (KJV)
